To Jeff Embry and his partners at Hossley ★ Embry, there's only one reason to go to the office every day: to protect average Texans from being injured by dangerous products and the negligence of others.

MARKET FORCES

"In my experience, manufacturers will only make safer products when market forces require it," says Embry, who was named a Texas Super Lawyers Rising Star. "A well-represented victim pursuing a product liability case is one of those 'market forces' that helps advance product safety."

The litigation team at Hossley ★ Embry has proudly represented consumers harmed by a wide variety of defective products. Embry particularly enjoys automotive products liability cases and is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers. He has represented clients in claims involving General Motors, Mercedes, Volkswagen, Toyota, Nissan, and other auto manufacturers.

Formed in 2002 by two husband-and-wife teams, Hossley ★ Embry has offices in Dallas and Tyler and represents clients throughout Texas. Together, the lawyers — Allen and Jill Hossley and Jeff and Renna Embry — bring to the table a wealth of legal expertise and a passion for justice.

LEVELING THE PLAYING FIELD

Hossley ★ Embry is dedicated to leveling the playing field by providing high quality legal representation to ordinary Texans. Their attorneys' backgrounds include defending corporations, where they learned first-hand what could happen to individuals without good legal representation.

"I saw that someone who doesn't have a good lawyer is at a disadvantage, even if they have a solid case," says Embry, who is Board Certified in Personal Injury Trial Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. "For me, it's extremely challenging and rewarding to take on large corporations and their well-trained lawyers."

In addition to handling a wide array of products liability cases, Hossley ★ Embry's clients have included people suffering from the ill effects of toxic exposures, as well as those harmed by medical negligence, auto accidents, and employment discrimination.
